

Site Upgrade at Friday December 2nd

At Friday December 2nd, I will update some components of the site, including the Core for improved stability and security.

Along with that come some new features, especially concerning your Profile (completely new look there) and Instant Messaging. Ever wanted to write a PM, and forgotten the exact username of the recipient? There will be a list with all Knights to write to.

So if the site is down on Friday or you stumble upon something strange, don't wonder. Check out the link below for more news after the Update.
