If you haven't read the thread yet then I've made a Bretonnian Anthem. It is sung in 4/4 time and consists of 3 verses, a slight bridge, then a two part chorus.

It took me a little bit to think of the right words to rhyme and it isn't my life's work but it IS pretty good and I hope people would like to accept it as the Bretonnian National Anthem.

Armies march under a banner

Shining bright and in the sky

To defense and for the Lady

In the air our lances fly

Our devotion to our honor

And patriotism to our nation

We fight for Bretonnia only

To serve our faith's sensation

To the foe our horses ride

In the darkest of the storms

And prevailing in our Lady's eye

Our light be only a holy glow

We seek the Lady's bless

We set out on our quests

Our weapons held close

Valiant? The most

We have faith in success

Bretonnia, Bretonnia

We serve for thee in glory

The Lady guides

And we serve to die

For our tales be written in story

Bretonnia, Bretonnia

We stand by thy side

For forever old

Until death takes toll

May Bretonnia never die

Extras that were going to be used:

Our faith holds strong

As the Lady leads

Bretonnia holds on

as our tale be weaved

Bordeleux to Couronne

Lynoesse to Montfort

Bastonne to Carcassonne

shall all be welcomed in our court

Lands of freedom

And protection to thee

14 dukedomes rule around in quest for liberty

Ridding of the Greenskin and expanding our borders to the limit that we can acheive May we never be shorter

Blessed be those who have seen that Lake which our Lady is from and we pray for our sakes

Thanks for Reading!
