Today, our 300th Member registered right here at the Round Table of Bretonnia! It's great to see so many new members arriving here day after day, and participating in this growing Warhammer community.Â

Be welcome, Skellen! It would be great of you introduce yourself in the Entry Hall in the Forums, telling a bit about yourself, your armies, and how you found this site.

The fact that he's not even a Bretonnian general (yet?) is quite interesting, since it shows that we really have grown: From a small community for Bretonnian, to a site interesting for many Warhammer players, but still centered on Bretonnia, of course.
